REPULSE FRENCH ATTACKS

Berlin Reports Further Efforts to Make Progress in the Champagne District Have Met With Disaster to the Enemy—Russians Again Cross
East Prussian Frontier.

London, March 19.—The next important battle on the western front, it is believed, will take place along the River Yser, held on one side by the recently reorganized Belgian army and on the other side by the Germans.

As the floods have subsided the Belgians, supported by the warships of the allies, already have pushed their line forward and this is almost certain to lead to counter attacks by the Germans and a general engagement.

The contest for the spur of Notre Dame de Lorette is still in progress, and, according to Berlin, further attempts of the French to advance in Champagne, where they captured an important ridge north of Le Mesnil, have been repulsed.

There is little news from the eastern front and beyond the fact that the Russians have again crossed the East Prussian frontier in the far northeast, near Tilsit, and that they are continuing their offensive against the Austrians in Bukovina, there is no change in the situation.

There is a temporary lull in the bombardment of the Dardanelles and Smyrna, according to an Athens dispatch, which gives no reason for this, but it was thought to be due to unfavorable weather conditions.

German Army.

Philip Scheidmann, Socialist, also eulogized the German troops for their bravery. He said it was the duty of the reichstag to provide for the families of soldiers killed or incapacitated.

He ridiculed the suggestion that Germany could be starved.

It was stated officially at the state department that this government still does not know whether the action of the allies is intended as a legal blockade, or whether the ordinary rules of contraband and noncontraband are to be the legal basis for future detentions.

The census bill, introduced by Senator J. D. Sullivan, carried a $100,000 appropriation.

Senator G. H. Sullivan of Stillwater opposed the bill, contending that, although the constitution may provide for a census, there is nothing in the constitution to compel the legislature to pass a bill providing for the census.

The vote upheld his contention 30 to 21, for indefinite postponement, in effect killing the measure.

FRENCH WARSHIP
SUNK BY TURKS

(By United Press)

Constantinople, March 19.—An official statement issued by the war department of Turkey says the French battleship Bouvet was sunk by the Turkish forts while bombarding the Dardanelles. The Turkish warships bombarded the Russian torpedo boat base west of Theodosia, Crimea, firing many buildings and damaging Russian warcraft. This is the first official confirmation of the reports in circulation two weeks ago. The Turkish fleet has withdrawn from the Dardanelles Straits and is now operating in the Black Sea. The reports indicate that the Bouvet was sunk inside the straits. The allied fleets opened a heavy fire upon the Dardanelles forts swinging into close range and hurling shells at intervals of less than one minute. The forts returned the fire and shelled the Anglo-French warships with great effectiveness, several allied warships withdrawing badly damaged. Following the disaster to the Bouvet the allied warships withdrew steaming from sight off Tenedos Island, and rumors are in circulation that the attempt to force the Dardanelles has been abandoned. Only part of the Turkish fleet took part in the bombardment of the Russian torpedo boat base, the bombardment lasting but a few minutes, the Turkish fire being unusually well directed.

Great Britain, Germany and Austria Accept Proposal of the United port Upon Their Condition.

Washington, March 19.—An arrangement by Great Britain and Germany and Austria by which representatives of the United States will inspect and report upon alien prison camps in those countries and distribute to prisoners supplies from their own government or other sources was announced by the state department.

At the same time it was stated that through the good offices of the American government similar arrangements were under contemplation between Russia and France and Germany and Austria-Hungary.

These arrangements are based upon recommendations contained in a report by Chandler P. Anderson, former counselor of the state department, who conferred with the foreign offices of Great Britain, Germany and Austria-Hungary last November and visited some of the detention camps in those countries.

Mr. Anderson also reported upon the exercise of good offices of the United States to bring about a better understanding among the European belligerents regarding the repatriation of civilian prisoners.

In this connection it is announced that Great Britain and Germany and Austria-Hungary have expressed a willingness to exchange, man for man, detained enemy civilians of military age, while an arrangement for the release of civilians of nonmilitary age has been held up so far by Great Britain's refusal to agree to the age limits proposed.

New York, March 19.—The annual report of the United States Steel corporation for 1914 offers proof of the depression in the steel industry during that year. Earnings of $81,746,518 show a decrease of $65,421,000 compared with 1913, while the net income of $46,520,408, a decrease of $58,800,284.

In 1914 the corporation mined only 17,034,981 tons of iron ore against 28,738,451 tons in 1913, and its total production of rolled and other finished steel products for sale fell off 3,360,326 tons to 9,014,512 tons.

VETOES STATEWIDE
PROHIBITION BILLGovernor Spry of Utah Makes Public His Reasons.

Salt Lake City, March 19.—Governor Spry filed with the secretary of state his veto of the Wootton statewide prohibition bill, which passed the recent legislature by a vote of 40 to 5 in the house and 16 to 2 in the senate. As the legislature has adjourned the governor's veto of the measure is final.

The veto message cites the local option law of the state as affording prohibition to such communities as desire it, especially with the operation of the new "dry territory" bill, which the governor approved this week.

His concluding objection to the bill is that the bill abolishes the saloon and makes the druggist the dispenser of alcohol and wine on the physician's prescription, "with the generous allowance of a maximum of one quart of liquor under each prescription."

GREAT INTEREST IS SHOWN

James J. Hill, Former Head of the Great Northern; President W. A. Gardner of the Northwestern and Omaha and President Edmund Pennington of the Soo Address Senate and House Committees.

St. Paul, March 19.—James J. Hill, former chairman of the Great Northern Railway company, appeared before the senate and house committees on transportation at a public hearing to urge that passenger rates be increased from 2 to 2½ cents a mile, as proposed in a bill introduced by Senator E. J. Westlake of Minneapolis.

President W. A. Gardner of the Chicago and Northwestern and Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha Railway companies and President Edmund Pennington of the Soo line also addressed the committee.

The senate chamber was requisitioned for the meeting. Senator Edward Rustad of Wheaton presided and Representative J. G. Gerlich of Mankato, chairman of the house committee, sat next to him.

Mr. Hill predicted the speedy termination of the European war and said that if it ends this year wheat will sell for 70 cents a bushel in 1916. He asserted that the Great Northern capitalization is $115,000,000 less than the money invested in the property and said that his failure to develop the Great Northern ore properties was because capitalists were afraid to invest in Minnesota and be concluded by saying that the railroads have been "driven to the last ditch" by oppressive legislation.

The veteran railroad builder talked for more than an hour. Standing room was at a premium in the senate chamber and the two galleries were packed.

The trend of his argument, and also that of the two other presidents, was that if some action is not taken shortly to increase passenger rates in this territory, either the carriers must appeal to the United States supreme court or the interstate commerce commission for relief.

"Do not enact laws which the courts will find unfair and throw into the waste basket," warned Mr. Hill. He referred significantly to several recent United States supreme court decisions favoring the carriers, as opposed to drastic state rate regulations imposed by legislatures or commissions.

MAY CALL EXTRA SESSION

Governor Will Await Action on Important Laws.

Bismarck, N. D., March 19.—"I will not attempt to call a special session of the legislature," said Governor L. B. Hanna, "unless the referendum is used against some law that is of vital importance to the state. It would have to be on some law without which some of the institutions would be unable to run. If any one should attempt to cut off the appropriation for the penitentiary or the asylum for the insane it would be almost an absolute necessity to call an extra session."

Asked if he would call a special session if action were taken against the immigration bill or other similar measures, the governor said: "No, I do not think I would, although I consider that one of the most important bills and one that will do the state a great deal of good if it is put into operation, but for that alone I do not consider it would be advisable to call an extra session."

ELWELL LAW IS REPEALED

Northern Minnesota, it was pointed out, is in favor of the law, while southern sections of the state are vigorously opposed to it.

Constantinople, March 19.—An official statement issued by the war department of Turkey says the French battleship Bouvet was sunk by the Turkish forts while bombarding the Dardanelles. The Turkish warships bombarded the Russian torpedo boat base west of Theodosia, Crimea, firing many buildings and damaging Russian warcraft. This is the first official confirmation of the reports in circulation two weeks ago. The Turkish fleet has withdrawn from the Dardanelles Straits and is now operating in the Black Sea. The reports indicate that the Bouvet was sunk inside the straits. The allied fleets opened a heavy fire upon the Dardanelles forts swinging into close range and hurling shells at intervals of less than one minute. The forts returned the fire and shelled the Anglo-French warships with great effectiveness, several allied warships withdrawing badly damaged. Following the disaster to the Bouvet the allied warships withdrew steaming from sight off Tenedos Island, and rumors are in circulation that the attempt to force the Dardanelles has been abandoned. Only part of the Turkish fleet took part in the bombardment of the Russian torpedo boat base, the bombardment lasting but a few minutes, the Turkish fire being unusually well directed.

A later Russian statement denies the threat.

FIRST DRAFT OF U. S. PROTEST

(By United Press)

Washington, March 19.—The first draft of the United States protest to the blockade of the allies reached the president this afternoon, and declares the blockade an implication rather than a fact. It is not likely that the document will be sent for several days. The officials say that haste is not necessary. It is denied that the president is considering a special session of congress.

WILL INSPECT PRISON CAMPS

Warring Nations Grant Privilege to American.

MAY DISTRIBUTE SUPPLIES

Great Britain, Germany and Austria Accept Proposal of the United States to Allow an American to Visit Alien Prison Camps and Report Upon Their Condition.

Washington, March 19.—An arrangement by Great Britain and Germany and Austria by which representatives of the United States will inspect and report upon alien prison camps in those countries and distribute to prisoners supplies from their own government or other sources was announced by the state department.

At the same time it was stated that through the good offices of the American government similar arrangements were under contemplation between Russia and France and Germany and Austria-Hungary.

These arrangements are based upon recommendations contained in a report by Chandler P. Anderson, former counselor of the state department, who conferred with the foreign offices of Great Britain, Germany and Austria-Hungary last November and visited some of the detention camps in those countries.

Mr. Anderson also reported upon the exercise of good offices of the United States to bring about a better understanding among the European belligerents regarding the repatriation of civilian prisoners.

In this connection it is announced that Great Britain and Germany and Austria-Hungary have expressed a willingness to exchange, man for man, detained enemy civilians of military age, while an arrangement for the release of civilians of nonmilitary age has been held up so far by Great Britain's refusal to agree to the age limits proposed.

New German Army Railways.

Basel, Switzerland, March 19.—The Germans are constructing two new strategic railroads on the Alsace-Lorraine frontier, according to reliable information reaching Basel. One runs between Strassburg and Molsheim and the other from Strassburg-Neudorf and Crastentaden to Koenigslofen. Both lines are to strengthen the Strassburg system of fortifications.

Germans Fortify Valley.

Geneva, March 19.—German troops have been energetically engaged for the past few days fortifying all the valley of the Ligne between Moos, Saint Louis and Loerrach, says the Lausanne Gazette. ## STEEL TRUST LOST MONEY

Annual Report Shows Falling Off During Year 1914.

New York, March 19.—The annual report of the United States Steel corporation for 1914 offers proof of the depression in the steel industry during that year. Earnings of $81,746,518 show a decrease of $65,421,000 compared with 1913, while the net income of $46,520,408, a decrease of $55,800,284.

Net income for 1914 shows a deficit of $16,971,934 against a surplus of $30,582,184 the previous year. The corporation's expenditures of $45,372,594 for maintenance, repairs and extraordinary replacements were $14,570,376, or 24.31 per cent under the previous year.

In 1914 the corporation mined only 17,034,981 tons of iron ore against 23,728,451 tons in 1913, and its total production of rolled and other finished steel products for sale fell off 3,360,326 tons to 9,014,512 tons.

VETOES STATEWIDE PROHIBITION BILL

Governor Spry of Utah Makes Public His Reasons.

Salt Lake City, March 19.—Governor Spry filed with the secretary of state his veto of the Wootton statewide prohibition bill, which passed the recent legislature by a vote of 40 to 5 in the house and 16 to 2 in the senate. As the legislature has adjourned the governor's veto of the measure is final.

The veto message cites the local option law of the state as affording prohibition to such communities as desire it, especially with the operation of the new "dry territory" bill, which the governor approved this week.

His concluding objection to the bill is that the bill abolishes the saloon and makes the druggist the dispenser of alcohol and wine on the physician's prescription, "with the generous allowance of a maximum of one quart of liquor under each prescription."

RAILWAYS URGE RATE INCREASE

Say Passenger Fares in Minnesota Are Too Low.

GREAT INTEREST IS SHOWN

James J. Hill, Former Head of the Great Northern; President W. A. Gardner of the Northwestern and Omaha and President Edmund Pennington of the Soo Address Senate and House Committees.

St. Paul, March 19.—James J. Hill, former chairman of the Great Northern Railway company, appeared before the senate and house committees on transportation at a public hearing to urge that passenger rates be increased from 2 to 2½ cents a mile, as proposed in a bill introduced by Senator E. J. Westlake of Minneapolis.

President W. A. Gardner of the Chicago and Northwestern and Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha Railway companies and President Edmund Pennington of the Soo line also addressed the committee.

The senate chamber was requisitioned for the meeting. Senator Edward Ruskard of Wheaton presided and Representative J. G. Gerlich of Mankato, chairman of the house committee, sat next to him.

Mr. Hill predicted the speedy termination of the European war and said that if it ends this year wheat will sell for 70 cents a bushel in 1916. He asserted that the Great Northern capitalization is $115,000,000 less than the money invested in the property and said that his failure to develop the Great Northern ore properties was because capitalists were afraid to invest in Minnesota and he concluded by saying that the railroads have been "driven to the last ditch" by oppressive legislation.

The veteran railroad builder talked for more than an hour. Standing room was at a premium in the senate chamber and the two galleries were packed.

The trend of his argument, and also that of the two other presidents, was that if some action is not taken shortly to increase passenger rates in this territory, either the carriers must appeal to the United States supreme court or the interstate commerce commission for relief.

"Do not enact laws which the courts will find unfair and throw into the waste basket," warned Mr. Hill. He referred significantly to several recent United States supreme court decisions favoring the carriers, as opposed to drastic state rate regulations imposed by legislatures or commissions.

MAY CALL EXTRA SESSION

Governor Will Await Action on Important Laws.

Bismarck, N. D., March 19.—"I will not attempt to call a special session of the legislature," said Governor L. B. Hanna, "unless the referendum is used against some law that is of vital importance to the state. It would have to be on some law without which some of the institutions would be unable to run. If any one should attempt to cut off the appropriation for the penitentiary or the asylum for the insane it would be almost an absolute necessity to call an extra session."

Asked if he would call a special session if action were taken against the immigration bill or other similar measures, the governor said: "No, I do not think I would, although I consider that one of the most important bills and one that will do the state a great deal of good if it is put into operation, but for that alone I do not consider it would be advisable to call an extra session."

ELWELL LAW IS REPEALED

Had Been in Effect in Minnesota for Some Years.

St. Paul, March 19.—The Elwell road law, enacted by the legislature of four years ago, was repealed when the house, by a vote of 79 to 42, passed Senator Vermilya's bill, which passed the senate two weeks ago.

Debate on the bill continued for more than two hours, during which friends of the repeal vigorously attacked various sections of the Elwell law, characterizing some parts as "vicious and unjust."

Northern Minnesota, it was pointed out, is in favor of the law, while southern sections of the state are vigorously opposed to it.

player who has had worlds of experience. He held down a berth with Minneapolis in its palmy days. Mr.
Johnson is also famous as a hunter and fisherman, a U. C. T. man and boniface.

M. E. Ryan, the legal mind on the Chamber of Commerce baseball committee, was a leading light in the formation and maintenance of the Minnesota Central base ball league, and this league, by the way, certainly keyed up interest in base ball in this section.

Fred Cook is the perennial pitcher and his pitching wing is just as good as in the days when he romped on St.
Paul diamonds. With the years, he gains in wisdom. Like chess, Cook says that base ball is a game to be studied and a science ever changing.

Tom Templeton has returned from Arkansas and Louisiana much improved in health and the renowned third-sacker is in fine shape for another season.

Billy Sunday is an old ball player and that explains how he can work up a nine-inning tie game, 2 to 2, two men out, two strikes on the batter and the last chance to tie the score, sort of interest in revival meetings. When Billy is on the coaching lines, the sinners make a run for the straight and narrow path.

Mike Cantillon has severed all connections with the Northern league and says that he will hereafter devote his undivided attention to the Millers and his mining and real estate interests.

The Duluth Herald mentions that Dick Bush, a brother of Leslie or "Bullet Joe" Bush of the Athletics, has been signed up as a pitcher.
Since when has our Rich been dubbed "Dick"?

CHILDREN HATE OIL.*CALOMEL AND PILLS

"California Syrup of Figs" Best for Tender Stomach, Liver, Bowels
—Tastes Delicious

Look back at your childhood days.
Remember the "dose" mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics.
How you hated them, how you fought against taking them.

With our children it's different.
Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well-founded. Their tender little "insides" are injured by them.

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing, give only delicious "California Syrup of Figs". Its action is positive, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless
"fruit laxative" handy; they know children love to take it; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and that a teaspoonful given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs" which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on each bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. See that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

GERMAN TELLS OF LOSSES

Berlin, March 19.—News which arrived of the control of the whole of Sudan by Dervishes and their killing of thousands of British troops was the first definite word to reach the public of the serious conditions in

He told of an engagement near Fas-

Ninety thousand dervishes over-

WOMAN'S REALM

TO TEST BIRTH REGISTRATION

U. S. Government, Through Children's Bureau of Dept. of Labor, Making Systematic Canvass

SEE IF RECORDS ARE COMPLETE

Mrs. Henry I. Cohen, of Brainerd Musical Club, Gathering the County Statistics

The United States government, acting through the Children's Bureau of the Department of Labor, is making a systematic canvass in several of the states, to test the efficiency of the birth registration laws, and ascertain if possible, the proportion of unregistered births in the various sections.

The ultimate object of this canvass is to afford a basis in figures for the enactment of uniform laws in all of the states, something, which at present does not exist and which the government is convinced has a most important bearing in its efforts to reduce infant mortality, to enforce child-labor and education laws, and in many other matters affecting the welfare of children.

Miss Julia Lathrop, chief of the Federal bureau, has asked the co-operation of the federated women's clubs throughout the country in gathering these statistics; and acting on request of the Minnesota federation, the Brainerd Musical club has appointed Mrs. H. I. Cohen to gather the needed statistics for Crow Wing country.

Dr. H. M. Bracken, of the State Board of Health, named this county as one of sixteen in the state, which combined, will give a fairly accurate estimate of the state.

Mrs. Cohen has compiled a list of thirty births in Brainerd within the past year, which the government regards as sufficient for a test, and has found that in three cases or ten per cent, there is no public record of the birth. This is somewhat surprising as Minnesota is listed by the government as one of the states which have adequate, though not model laws on the subject and where effort is made by the state health department and physicians generally to have them properly enforced.

An additional list of thirty births in the county, outside of Brainerd, will also be collected. It is believed the rural districts, will in general, show a higher percentage of non-registration for the reason that in many cases there is no attending physician and the matter is otherwise neglected or forgotten.

It is the aim of the government to have everybody co-operate to secure the registration of every birth in the United States and a special bulletin has been issued by the Children's Bureau, calling attention to numerous instances where children, whose births have not been registered have lost valuable estates, have been denied re-admission to the country after a visit abroad, been called to foreign military service and otherwise lost their rights as native born Americans.

These reports, when all compiled, will be set forth in a special pamphlet by the government and the necessity will then be urged upon the state legislatures of a uniform law that will guarantee all American-born children their full rights.

PERSONAL MENTION

Miss Kate McIntosh and Miss K. Clark have returned to Brainerd after visiting a week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Cameron of Aitkin.

CROWDS THROUGH THE STORE

The H. F. Michael Store Show a New Departure, Corsets Fitted on Living Models

The H. F. Michael store was thronged with women Thursday evening who witnessed an entirely new departure for Brainerd stores, that of fitting corsets upon living models.

The rear of the store was arranged as an auditorium and accommodated one hundred women at each demonstration. The women were quite profuse of their praise of the H. F. Michael Co. and their progressiveness. Three living models were used in the corset demonstration and Miss Mabel E. Johnson, of the Michael store, was the lecturer.

Side lace shoes shown came from the P. J. Oberst store.

The windows revealed the work of an artist. Such decorated windows are seldom seen outside the Twin Cities. They were the work of G. A. Beale. Millinery styles were shown, Miss Bertha Peterson being assisted by Mrs. H. A. Knapp and Mrs. E. M. Myhra. The entire store was charmingly decorated.

H. F. Michael Co. express the wish that merchants in all lines co-operate in two such events each year in which the windows and stores be decorated and Brainerd merchants demonstrate how metropolitan they are.

HUBERT

Everett Fuller went to Williams Wednesday night, where he has a homestead.

WOMAN'S REALM

TO TEST BIRTH REGISTRATION

U. S. Government, Through Children's Bureau of Dept. of Labor, Making Systematic Canvass

SEE IF RECORDS ARE COMPLETE

Mrs. Henry I. Cohen, of Brainerd Musical Club, Gathering the County Statistics

The United States government, acting through the Children's Bureau of the Department of Labor, is making a systematic canvass in several of the states, to test the efficiency of the birth registration laws, and ascertain if possible, the proportion of unregistered births in the various sections.

The ultimate object of this canvass is to afford a basis in figures for the enactment of uniform laws in all of the states, something, which at present does not exist and which the government is convinced has a most important bearing in its efforts to reduce infant mortality, to enforce child-labor and education laws, and in many other matters affecting the welfare of children.

Miss Julia Lathrop, chief of the Federal bureau, has asked the co-operation of the federated women's clubs throughout the country in gathering these statistics; and acting on request of the Minnesota federation, the Brainerd Musical club has appointed Mrs. H. I. Cohen to gather the needed statistics for Crow Wing country.

Dr. H. M. Bracken, of the State Board of Health, named this county as one of sixteen in the state, which combined, will give a fairly accurate estimate of the state.

Mrs. Cohen has compiled a list of thirty births in Brainerd within the past year, which the government regards as sufficient for a test, and has found that in three cases or ten per cent, there is no public record of the birth. This is somewhat surprising as Minnesota is listed by the government as one of the states which have adequate, though not model laws on the subject and where effort is made by the state health department and physicians generally to have them properly enforced.

An additional list of thirty births in the county, outside of Brainerd, will also be collected. It is believed the rural districts, will in general, show a higher percentage of non-registration for the reason that in many cases there is no attending physician and the matter is otherwise neglected or forgotten.

It is the aim of the government to have everybody co-operate to secure the registration of every birth in the United States and a special bulletin has been issued by the Children's Bureau, calling attention to numerous instances where children, whose births have not been registered have lost valuable estates, have been denied re-admission to the country after a visit abroad, been called to foreign military service and otherwise lost their rights as native born Americans.

These reports, when all compiled, will be set forth in a special pamphlet by the government and the necessity will then be urged upon the state legislatures of a uniform law that will guarantee all American-born children their full rights.

PERSONAL MENTION

CROWDS THROUGH THE STORE

The H. F. Michael Store Show a New Departure, Corsets Fitted on Living Models

The H. F. Michael store was thronged with women Thursday evening who witnessed an entirely new departure for Brainerd stores, that of fitting corsets upon living models.

The rear of the store was arranged as an auditorium and accommodated one hundred women at each demonstration. The women were quite profuse of their praise of the H. F. Michael Co. and their progressiveness. Three living models were used in the corset demonstration and Miss Mabel E. Johnson, of the Michael store, was the lecturer.

Side lace shoes shown came from the P. J. Oberst store.

The windows revealed the work of an artist. Such decorated windows are seldom seen outside the Twin Cities. They were the work of G. A. Beale. Millinery styles were shown, Miss Bertha Peterson being assisted by Mrs. H. A. Knapp and Mrs. E. M. Myhra. The entire store was charmingly decorated.

If, F. Michael Co. express the wish that merchants in all lines co-operate in two such events each year in which the windows and stores be decorated and Brainerd merchants demonstrate how metropolitan they are.

CHAMBER THE PROPER PLACE

And now the Tribune tries to incite the members of the Chamber of Commerce against acting on the charter. The Tribune is strong in urging the Dispatch editor to read the new and old charters of the city. We beg to tell the Tribune Editor to read the By-laws of the Chamber of Commerce. No more explicit are duties defined anywhere than are those of certain committees, to-wit:

"... to consider all questions relating to the administration of city affairs..." (City Development)
 "... to suggest measures calculated to produce economy and efficiency in public service..." (Same).

"... to check up from time to time the business and all transactions relating to city officers..." (City Officers.)

"... to check up from time to time the business and all transactions relating to county officers..." (County Officers.)

We maintain that the Chamber of Commerce is the proper place to consider this charter and to act on it. But the Tribune is opposed to educating the people, it resented the Dispatch's efforts in supporting the charter. It thinks the charter commission members favoring the new charter are only doing benevolent services. It infers that the old charter is up-to-date, it even calls the commissioners' work kindergarten work.

WHY RESENT IT

It seems that the editor of the Tribune, who is also the president of the Charter Commission, does not fully understand the duties of the body over which he presides. When that commission presents anything new for the public to vote on, the public has the right to expect and demand explanations from the members of the Commission about its work. It can be nothing else but an "educational" question, and why resent it?

And where is there the slightest semblance in what the commissioners have done "of trying to force the charter down peoples' throats," as the Tribune says. That no one is too old to learn is an old saying, but the Tribune records itself as trying to influence its readers into the belief that there is nothing new for them to learn in this matter when that education comes from members of the charter commission. He thinks "the people" resent their efforts. We are a part of "those people" and we do not resent it. If the people do not like the new charter they will vote accordingly.

Drink a Little Beer Occasionally

IT'S one of the things I often prescribe. It will do you good if you use it moderately, as all men do who know what real temperance is.

Beer is refreshing, exhilarating, nutritious, and a tonic. It promotes digestion and is a wholesome food beverage. When a man drinks beer he drinks and eats at the same time, just as when he eats a bowl of soup. The terms "eat" and "drink" are inconsistently used in pointing out the difference between what is merely quenching our thirst and what is actually consuming nourishment. In my opinion, a man might more properly be said to eat beer than to eat certain kinds of soup, or indeed watermelon.

Drink beer and eat moderately. The moderate beer drinker and eater is in a far better position than the total abstainer, who often consumes an excess of solid food. Beer builds tissues, restores waste, furnishes heat, and produces energy.

THE NEW CHARTER

Edited by the members of the Charter Commission favorable to new charter.

The new charter to be voted on in April will be distributed before long. The law does not compel the publication nor the distribution of the same. It is being done, however, to give every one an opportunity to read it and then ask questions. Meanwhile it is deemed advisable to give an epitome of parts of the charter, from time to time, explaining the features of these various parts, thereby making it easier for you to read the printed form, and easier to understand when you know in a way what is coming. Often a question will bring out a point which is important but may be overlooked by us. We also invite your contributions to these columns, for after we have explained generally the contents of the charter we will publish arguments on those points which are generally picked out as being plows. Remember we want you to send us your questions. We will answer all that can be answered, and hope thereby to clear up some voter's mind.

OUR PREAMBLE

"No form of government can in and of itself produce good results. The most that any plan can do is to provide an organization which LENDS itself to EFFICIENT action, and which at the same time places in the hands of the electorate some simple and effective means for controlling their government in their own interests. Beyond that results can only be obtained thru an enlightened public opinion."

CHAPTER XIII

Sections 145 to 156, Inclusive
 Franchises

Council by ordinance may grant rights for constructing and operating street and other railways, telegraph and telephone lines, or for transmitting electricity, or for furnishing to the city or its inhabitants water, light, heat or power, but subject always to the limitations of the charter.

No exclusive franchise for one longer than for a 30-year period shall ever be granted.

All franchises shall state a maximum price which may be charged for services rendered or commodity furnished and specify the streets, alleys, etc., involved. Must be published in full at least once a week for four successive weeks after its passage and shall take effect 30 days after its last publication, subject to referendum.

City retains right to regulate and control.

Every franchise holder must file with Mayor a complete financial statement every February. Fine imposed for failure to do so. After sixty-day default, council has power to forfeit franchise.

Disputes liable to interfere with service can be ordered by mayor to be arbitrated, and the findings shall be advisory or mandatory as found.

City has power to regulate and control maximum price, and to that effect the council is given power to appoint a commission to determine all questions with reference to rates to be charged.

Safe, uniform, adequate and convenient service to the public shall be required.

Every franchise must contain certain prescribed provisions or else be void, some of which are, that the council shall have the right to require extensions of any public service system; that the franchise shall have no monetary value if acquired by the city upon condemnation proceedings; that there shall be adjustments made at proper time providing for joint or common use of certain franchises when a tender is made.

Railway franchises shall contain grade separation clauses.

Street railway franchises shall contain requirements for interchangeable transfers without additional charge.

Franchises granted for the erection of poles or masts along a highway, or other public place for the conduct of electricity shall provide for free and exclusive use by the city of the upper arm, placed free of charge by grantee. Similarly, a reservation is made as to conduits.

Council is given full power to insert anything in a franchise which

It may deem proper to protect the interests of the city.

Any ambiguous terms in any franchise shall be construed in favor of the city.

Mayor shall keep a franchise record embracing all franchises or grants by the city to anybody. To be properly indexed, and be kept complete in the history as to each franchise granted.

CHAPTER XIV.

Sec. 157 to 162, Inclusive

General term of municipal court every Tuesday at 10 A. M.

Judge of Municipal court shall appoint an official stenographer of said court who shall hold his office during the pleasure of said Judge. Duties and fees of stenographer are prescribed.

The Dispatch is in receipt of the following communication from M. J. Reilly in reference to his remarks on the saloon question:

The Brainerd Daily Dispatch:

I see your edition of the 16th contains a paid advertisement quoting me on the saloon question. The fact is that I met Mr. Chas. Osterlund at Deerwood, Minn., and when old friends meet they have to talk about something. He asked me how Detroit was since the saloons were closed and as I have never been accused of being a knocker I "strung" him along a little. I did not think I was being interviewed by a newspaper reporter. That is one thing I try to avoid. There are plenty of that kind of people in the world. If you do not believe it, read the "Mail Bag" of the Pioneer Press. The Law Enforcement League may mean alright but I think they do not think any further than the saloon. They forget that they are hitting various other industries such as the Grain-growers, the Lumbermen, the Box-makers, the Bottle and Glass Manufacturers, the Printers and Label Makers, the Advertising Companies, the Dray Lines, the Transportation Companies, the Ice Companies, and even the Cork Manufacturers will feel it. Also many others too numerous to mention. I see by a Brainerd publication a few days ago mentioning the great number of improvements made and being made in Brainerd, such as the East Brainerd Fill, the New City Hall, miles of Paved Streets, and I am a little bit afraid that Brainerd will miss that $20,000.00 a year revenue. They argue that the money spent in saloons will be spent in other channels. They forget that about six-tenths of the money spent in saloons is left by transients as Brainerd is quite a transient town. I am also afraid that Brainerd will miss the revenue from their water and light as the saloons are the largest users of these commodities. Every business man tries to increase his business profits and why is this not a good rule for a city. We are up here near North Dakota, a temperance State, and I am informed that the merchants there find collections much harder than in Minnesota. I, for one, am perfectly satisfied with conditions as they now are and am very anxious to see business let alone. Everyone will tell you that that is what is the trouble with business now. There are too many so called Reformers meddling with affairs on which they are not thoroughly or properly informed. In regard to a city without a police-man, this would mean a place so dull that I would not care to live there.

Yours respectfully,

CHAMBER THE PROPER PLACE

And now the Tribune tries to incite the members of the Chamber of Commerce against acting on the charter. The Tribune is strong in urging the Dispatch editor to read the new and old charters of the city. We beg to tell the Tribune Editor to read the By-laws of the Chamber of Commerce. No more explicit are duties defined anywhere than are those of certain committees, to-wit:

".....to consider all questions relating to the administration of city affairs....." (City Development)

".....to suggest measures calculated to produce economy and efficiency in public service....." (Same.)

".....to check up from time to time the business and all transactions relating to city officers....." (City Officers.)

".....to check up from time to time the business and all transactions relating to county officers....." (County Officers.)

We maintain that the Chamber of Commerce is the proper place to consider this charter and to act on it. But the Tribune is opposed to educating the people, it resented the Dispatch's efforts in supporting the charter. It thinks the charter commission members favoring the new charter are only doing benevolent services. It infers that the old charter is up-to-date, it even calls the commissioners' work kindergarten work.

WHY RESENT IT

It seems that the editor of the Tribune, who is also the president of the Charter Commission, does not fully understand the duties of the body over which he presides. When that commission presents anything new for the public to vote on, the public has the right to expect and demand explanations from the members of the Commission about its work. It can be nothing else but an "educational" question, and why resent it?

And where is there the slightest semblance in what the commissioners have done "of trying to force the charter down peoples' throats," as the Tribune says. That no one is too old to learn is an old saying, but the Tribune records itself as trying to influence its readers into the belief that there is nothing new for them to learn in this matter when that education comes from members of the charter commission. He thinks "the people" resent their efforts. We are a part of "those people" and we do not resent it. If the people do not like the new charter they will vote accordingly.

Drink a Little Beer Occasionally

ITS one of the things I often prescribe. It will do you good if you use it moderately, as all men do who know what real temperance is.

Beer is refreshing, exhilarating, nutritious, and a tonic. It promotes digestion and is a wholesome food beverage. When a man drinks beer he drinks and eats at the same time, just as when he eats a bowl of soup. The terms "eat" and "drink" are inconsistently used in pointing out the difference between what is merely quenching our thirst and what is actually consuming nourishment. In my opinion, a man might more properly be said to eat beer than to eat certain kinds of soup, or indeed watermelon.

Drink beer and eat moderately. The moderate beer drinker and eater is in a far better position than the total abstainer, who often consumes an excess of solid food. Beer builds tissues, restores waste, furnishes heat, and produces energy.

THE NEW CHARTER

Edited by the members of the Charter Commission favorable to new charter.

The new charter to be voted on in April will be distributed before long. The law does not compel the publication nor the distribution of the same. It is being done, however, to give every one an opportunity to read it and then ask questions. Meanwhile it is deemed advisable to give an epitome of parts of the charter, from time to time, explaining the features of these various parts, thereby making it easier for you to read the printed form, and easier to understand when you know in a way what is coming. Often a question will bring out a point which is important but may be overlooked by us. We also invite your contributions to these columns, for after we have explained generally the contents of the charter we will publish arguments on those points which are generally picked out as being plows. Remember we want you to send us your questions. We will answer all that can be answered, and hope thereby to clear up some other voter's mind.

OUR PREAMBLE

"No form of government can in and of itself produce good results. The most that any plan can do is to provide an organization which LENDS itself to EFFICIENT action, and which at the same time places in the hands of the electorate some simple and effective means for controlling their government in their own interests. Beyond that results can only be obtained thru an enlightened public opinion."

CHAPTER XIII

Sections 145 to 156, Inclusive

Franchises

Council by ordinance may grant rights for constructing and operating street and other railways, telegraph and telephone lines, or for transmitting electricity, or for furnishing to the city or its inhabitants water, light, heat or power, but subject always to the limitations of the charter.

Safe, uniform, adequate and convenient service to the public shall be required.

Every franchise must contain certain prescribed provisions or else be void, some of which are, that the council shall have the right to require extensions of any public service system; that the franchise shall have no monetary value if acquired by the city upon condemnation proceedings; that there shall be adjustments made at proper time providing for joint or common use of certain franchises when a tender is made.

Railway franchises shall contain grade separation clauses.

GAS COMPANY WINS ON EVERY POINT

Mayor R. A. Henning Had no Authority to Withdraw Presentation of Ordinance

AND TO CAUSE A RE-DELIVERY

State Supreme Court Holds Further That Disapproval of Mayor not Made Within Time Limit

The Light & Power Co., gas company to which had been granted a franchise to construct and operate a gas plant in the city of Brainerd, and which was checked from operating by the actions of Mayor R. A. Henning, appealed to the state supreme court to decide points of law involved in the contention of the mayor that his veto was within the time limit, and the opinion, written by Chief Justice Brown, sustains the gas company on every point and holds Mayor Henning in error.

The gas ordinance was duly enacted by the council and formally presented to Mayor Henning for his approval or disapproval, says Chief Justice Brown in the syllabus of the case entitled State of Minnesota, ex rel Light & Power Co. respondent vs. V. N. Roderick, et al, appellants.

Subsequently, on the same day, the mayor requested the clerk, V. N. Roderick, to withdraw such presentation and to make a re-delivery thereof to the mayor on the next following day; this the clerk agreed to and he "took back" the ordinance and caused a re-delivery thereof to the mayor on the following day.

It is held that the time within which the mayor might veto the ordinance commenced to run on the first presentation of the ordinance; and since such presentation was in fact made, and the official duty of the clerk was completely performed, the effect thereof could not be destroyed by an agreement with the mayor to make another presentation at some later time.

The disapproval of the mayor not having been made within the time prescribed was ineffectual, and the ordinance became a valid enactment, and the respondent was properly required by the judgment to publish the same.

The next point considered was whether Mayor Henning's contention was correct that his veto was within the time limit and on that point too the State Supreme Court held against the mayor.

The ordinance was duly passed and enacted by the city council at a session held February 2. Soon after such passage the city clerk endorsed thereon, "Delivered to his Honor, the Mayor, Feb. 2nd, 1914 at eleven o'clock P. M.", and after signing such indorsement officially, personally presented the ordinance, so indorsed, to the mayor. Shortly thereafter the mayor returned the ordinance to the clerk with the request that he, the clerk, withdraw the delivery and presentation so made, and re-deliver the same, on the following day, giving as a reason for the request that the city attorney would be out of the city during the next few days, a consultation with whom was desired by the mayor before exercising his right of veto.

The clerk "took back" the ordinance, and caused the same to be re-delivered to the mayor the next day, on February 3, the delivery being made by the chief of police. The indorsement on the back of the ordinance was changed from the 2nd to the 3rd of February. The veto was not filed with the clerk within the time prescribed by the charter from the 2nd of February on which day the ordinance was first formally presented to the mayor, but was filed within the proper time treating February 3rd as the date of presentation.

Chief Justice Brown holds that the ordinance was in fact presented to the mayor on February 2 and the effect thereof could not be obviated by the agreement between the mayor and the city clerk that it should be withdrawn and re-presented at a later date.

The presentation made on February 2 was an accomplished fact, a full discharge of the clerk's duty, and could not be undone for the purpose of extending the time within which the mayor might exercise his right of veto. There are few authorities bearing directly upon the question, but the general mandatory principles of the law controlling the enactment of ordinances by municipal corporations, and the veto power of the chief executive thereof, will not sustain a proceeding of this kind.

It follows that since the disapproval of the mayor was not made within the time prescribed therefore by the city charter the ordinance became a valid enactment and the respondent was properly commanded by the judgment to publish the same as provided for by the city charter.

M. E. Ryan was attorney for the victorious Light & Power company.

Waukesha, Wis., March 19.—Mrs. Louis Hicks of Milwaukee, a sister of Mrs. Frank Hanley of Duluth, was found dead along the railroad tracks near Waukesha. A coroner's investigation established the fact that she had leaped from a Northwestern train. She was attired only in her nightgown.

When the train reached Waukesha the washroom window was found to have been shattered. Mrs. Hicks had been visiting her sister at Duluth and was returning home.

Home Baking Reduces Cost of Living

THE U. S. Dept. of Agriculture in Experiment Station Bulletin No. 142 says that ten cents worth of wheat supplies almost three times as much protein and ten times as much energy as round steak, and with some other cuts of meat the difference is even greater.

If then, one really desires to reduce her weekly meat and grocery bills, she need only make more use of her oven.

Who ever heard man, woman or child complain that good home-made biscuits, muffins, cake and cookies appeared on the table too often? Instead the tendency is "to make a meal of them" and the variety is so great that something you bake yourself could well be the chief feature of every meal.

Home Baking is Simplified by the Use of K C Baking Powder

With K C, you can make things moist and rich yet have them light and feathery, wholesome and digestible. Biscuits may be mixed the night before and baked fresh for breakfast. Muffins need not be dry and heavy. You can make a cake so light that you can hardly get it out of the pan whole, yet it will not fall.

K C is not like the old fashioned baking powders. It is double acting and continues to give off leavening gas until the dough is cooked through. K C is sold at a fair price—a large can for 25 cents. This would be no object if strength and purity were sacrificed, but every can is fully guaranteed under State and National Pure Food laws and to please. We take all the chances. Your money back if you do not get better results with K C than any baking powder you ever used.

Include a can in your next grocery order, try some of the new recipes that appear in this paper from time to time. Then you will have gone far toward solving this vexing "Cost of Living" problem.

The girl had awakened during the past few weeks to the dim happiness of being always the center of men's thoughts.

She was not in love, but she was ready to be. The experienced man beside her surmised this. His own heart was beating a new tune. He had lived much, and women had not been aloof from his life.

But this fair, proud, inexperienced, yet self contained girl awakened in him a deeper feeling than he cared to confess.

To be sure, he had John Dorr to contend with. Faversham did not underestimate him as a possible rival when he allowed himself to go so far as contemplating marriage with Ruth.

He liked the young American, and none knew better than he the effect that constant association with Dorr must have upon a young and very impressionable girl. John's own sentiments were unmistakable—he was deeply in love.

From Hongkong they transhipped to a P. and O. steamer for Bombay, and under Sir Donald's expert guidance they shortly found themselves in India and installed in a very good hotel.

"We must wait here till I discover through natives just where that fellow is bound for."

"Why not simply trace him?" demanded Dorr, impatient to be about his errand.

"That would be out of the question," Faversham explained. "In the first place, you don't understand any native tongue, and in the second place the British government doesn't look with favor on strange and unattached Europeans stumbling about among the natives."

"If you leave it to me I think I not only can ascertain the exact place where this fellow comes from, but the temple where the idol belongs."

Several days passed, during which Sir Donald was busy among old acquaintances, leaving John and Ruth to their own devices.

They occupied their time in sight-seeing. At last Faversham came into dinner one evening with a smile on his face.

"I've found your man and learned something of the history of the image," he said.

"And we can get it back?" Ruth inquired promptly.

Sir Donald shook his head gently. "Not so fast, young lady!"

"But that is what we came for," she went on.

"The fact of the matter is this," said the baronet—"that image was stolen

"Not so fast, young lady!"

several years ago—a great many, in truth. It is the tutelary deity of a small city on the river Bhalah, and it is about as sacred an article as you could pick up. The people of that city think that since they have lost their image the god is angry with them, and for some years they have quietly conducted a search for it."

"And this man will take it to Bhalah?" demanded Ruth.

"He has already started. I understand from some of the natives I know."

"Then what are we to do?" demanded John.

"Bhalah is some hundreds of miles up country," Sir Donald continued. "Part of the way we can go by rail, but part of the road we must travel either on foot or by litter—if we go."

"Of course we are going!" said Ruth.

"I most earnestly beg of you to stop here," said the baronet. "You don't know your India as I do, and even if we accomplished our purpose we should run double risk in getting back."

They argued the matter for some time, but Ruth refused to consider retreat at this stage, and John, impressed though he was by the other's evident sincerity, could not help feeling that as an outsider he did not understand the necessity of the recovery of the plans.

When he and Sir Donald talked it over alone the baronet was even more insistent.

He characterized the whole expedition as rash and plainly stated that should the British government get wind of such a search immediate steps would be taken to see that the Americans went no further.

Dorr was unconvinced and finally intimated that Faversham had not meant what he said when he had volunteered to help them.

Sir Donald shrugged his shoulders and admitted himself helpless in the face of such arguments.

"At least I can go along and do what I can to save the young woman from actual peril," he remarked. "I by no means promise to give you active assistance."

"I'll be satisfied if you'll just tip me off once in awhile," John responded.

They made the journey to Bhalah safely. Ruth and John viewing the novel sights that met their eyes on every hand, Sir Donald acting as general guide and instructor.

On their arrival at the teeming city they were soon installed in an inn outside the center and some distance up the river.

Faversham wasted no time in looking up certain people he knew among the natives and was in a position to inform them that he had not only discovered the temple, but that he had learned that the idol had been recovered and would be restored to its proper shrine with due ceremony and great festivity.

"That will be just our chance," said John. "In the crowds we ought to be safe."

Faversham tried to convince him that this was not so, but Dorr insisted so strongly that the Englishman yielded to his better judgment.

"I'll try to get you within sight of the idol anyway," he consented. "But I must insist that you obey my instructions implicitly. Otherwise we shall all get into trouble and you will eventually kill any chance you may have of attaining your purpose."

Announcement

To the People and Voters of the 5th Ward:

I hereby announce myself as a non-partisan candidate for the position of Alderman from the 5th ward, at the coming election, April 6th, 1915, and I respectfully ask your aid and support in this contest, and if elected I will boost for the welfare of the whole city, and I will in particular work for the improvement of the 5th ward.

In making this announcement I will state that I believe I need no introduction to the voters of the 5th ward. I have camped on the corner of Quince and Broadway south, for a third of a century and during all of those years I followed the lumber and log business. I have roamed the forests of the north, endured the cold and stormy blasts of winter, and on lakes and streams I measured and scaled the giant pines, and in spring and summer I drove those logs down the rivers to the mills, and thereby helped to contribute to the wealth of this city and Northern Minnesota. But now the day of the lumber-jack and log-man is past. They have played a generous part in the upbuilding and development of Northern Minnesota, the work they have done will endure, and no doubt the future historians of Minnesota will do them justice.

I never before entered a contest for any office and now at the end of thirty-four years of residence in Brainerd, I respectfully ask the voters of the 5th ward to send me to the city council, and if I am successful in getting there, I will promise you that there will be something doing.

I respectfully ask the voters for their support at the coming election and, if elected, I will give you the best of service, with favors to none.

More than a dollar out of your pocket—

EVERY dollar you spend outside of your own town for merchandise that can be bought of your local dealer is more than a dollar out of your pocket.

Your town's prosperity depends on the prosperity of its merchants. Your prosperity depends on the prosperity of your town.

No trade, no merchants; no merchants, no town; no town—you lose.

Besides, you lose in the direct returns for the money you send away.

Three dollars will buy a Gordon Hat in your town. Gordon Hats without the label are sold in the big cities for $3.50 and $4. The Gordon label on hats, caps and gloves is a sign that you are getting full value for your dollars.

The same is true all down the line. The big city merchant must get larger profits on his goods—and he does.

Trade at home, but be sure to buy goods you know about.

Creamettes is made from the creamy parts of Durum wheat and has a rich new flavor of its own.

Try it with cheese, with ham, with bacon, with tomatoes, with chicken, or with nuts.

Home Baking Reduces Cost of Living

THE U. S. Dept. of Agriculture in Experiment Station Bulletin No. 142 says that ten cents worth of wheat supplies almost three times as much protein and ten times as much energy as round steak, and with some other cuts the difference is even greater.

If then, one really desires to reduce her weekly meat and grocery bills, she need only make more use of her oven.

Who ever heard man, woman or child complain that good home-made biscuits, muffins, cake and cookies appeared on the table too often? Instead the tendency is "to make a meal of them" and the variety is so great that something you bake yourself could well be the chief feature of every meal.

Home Baking is Simplified by the Use of K C Baking Powder

With K C, you can make things moist and rich yet have them light and feathery, wholesome and digestible. Biscuits may be mixed the night before and baked fresh for breakfast. Muffins need not be dry and heavy. You can make a cake so light that you can hardly get it out of the pan whole, yet it will not fall.

K C is not like the old fashioned baking powders. It is double acting and continues to give off leavening gas until the dough is cooked through. K C is sold at a fair price—a large can for 25 cents. This would be no object if strength and purity were sacrificed, but every can is fully guaranteed under State and National Pure Food laws and to please. We take all the chances. Your money back if you do not get better results with K C than any baking powder you ever used.

Include a can in your next grocery order, try some of the new recipes that appear in this paper from time to time. Then you will have gone far toward solving this vexing "Cost of Living" problem.
